FOCUS on westview

Last October, the Yearbook Staff took a survey asking the students the following questions:
What was your first impression of Westview?
Has that impression changed?
If it has, what is it now?
Here are some of the replies we got: . . . BIG . . . very new . . . really nice . . . BIG . . . I'll never find my way around . . . Strange . . . Friendly . . . BIG . . . A place I have to come to . . . Warm . . . Cold . . . A nice school . . . A school not so nice . . . BIG . . . lots and lots of kids . . . it will take a while to get used to . . . I was scared . . . I love it . . . I don't love it . . . BIG . . . crowded . . . growing school spirit . . . people, people, people . . . BIG . . . full of life . . . I was overly impressed until I had finished a week of it . . . Interesting . . . Boring . . . Nice girls . . . Even better girls . . . Big . . . I felt inferior and dumb--I still feel dumb, but not inferior . . . Its a high school alright . . . thought it would be strict . . . good school . . . It was love at first sight--not the school, just the guys . . . difficult . . . Nice chicks . . . (I didn't know the school had chickens) . . . wall to wall people . . . enjoyable . . . I think I'll make it . . . just plain awful . . . it's OK . . . Coloured walls so dummies can find their way around . . . it's getting worse . . . The horror, the horror . . . The bigger the place the more beautiful and interesting people there are . . . A post office full of Male--get it? . . . An institution full of crazy people . . . competition . . . big and powerful . . . routine . . . UMM UMM BIG . . . I don't know . . . Great . . . Complicated . . . too much work--but I like it . . . it's cool . . . Little girls have become young ladies and have made the school a better place to be in . . . Lots of homework . . . IMPRESSIONS OF WESTVIEW

C O M M E N C E M E N T

VALEDICTORIAN SPEECH

Mr. Bell, Staff of Westview, Honoured guests, parents, fellow graduates and friends.

We came to Westview four years ago full of fear and suspicion, trembling grade ten students who didn't even know if we wanted to grow up. We came to a school many of us had never seen before, with friends we didn't really know in order to meet so many other people we didn't know at all: we sought to discover that one special person we would come so much closer to, that special person we had to get to know was ourselves. We felt so small, so unimportant, so out of place, alone and alienated.

But, beyond these feelings there were more feelings which accompanied us into our high school lives; the very personal hopes, goals, aspirations, and ambitions which we all possessed. They were the only feelings that could conquer our suspicions and surpress our fears. We hoped and believed even though we were only in grade nine or ten, and grade 12 or 13 appeared an unthinkable milestone away. We hoped and believed in the face of academic challenges. We hoped for success, we hoped that no one noticed we only had 940 words in our 1,000 word essays. We hoped for extensions do deadlines. We hoped to forget the trama of oral presentations. Remember those first exams. The armada of pens lined up. Mr. Wrigglesworth roaring for silence. The organization of the Russian government written on the palm of your hand and above all the tension. And remember the homework, they always gave it to you on nights when you had better things to do - and that was most nights.

Socially too, we had hopes to become, well, if not a vital part of our new environment, then at least to somehow be acknowledged. And as individuals we found this meant living and working with people we liked and with others we didn't really care for. That too, was part of the learning experience, to be sensitive to the needs and hopes of others as well as to our own.

Above the day to day survival we had other aspirations: to make that all important team, to be editor of the school newspaper, to hold a position on the Student Parliament, to make the honour role, to get that essential credit, and of course all those other very special, private aspirations which belong to each one of us. Yet, despite our hopes, or perhaps because of them, we found learning to be a difficult and even painful process. Education is something we had to suffer from before we could profit by it. Our education had, in fact, estranged us before we could become reconciled to it. We had to search the confines of our own minds and hearts before we dared to trespass on the thoughts and feelings of others. We began to perceive of learning as a positive process, not only because it was necessary, but because it was and is, genuinely desireable. And some of us have indeed come to enjoy this process of learning. For the first time in our lives we understood that learning is life and life is the most difficult, frustrating but singularly most illuminating education.

Education is evolving in an ever growing, changing and emerging world, a world completely susceptible to time. And so 1971 soon became 1975 and adolescence became adulthood. Fear and suspicion were replaced by respect and understanding in an environment we now know only too well. Strangers became good friends and old friends became better friends. Westview grew to mean something special to all of us. It gave us something because we were willing to give ourselves something. We all allowed ourselves to be responsive to the tolerance, patience and understanding of our teacher. They showed us and we recognized that when true communication occurs professional distances are eliminated. Teachers and administrators became the friends who guided us through those 1,000 word essays, those oral presentation, exams, homework and every important question about a future we were so unsure of.

We learned to assume duties, accept responsibilities and our minds became not only open but alert to the precious discovery of every new learning experience.

Socially too, we were striking out in new directions. For many of us it was enough to belong to a small group of friends. But for many more there was a feeling of belonging to a greater community and that was Westview.

As for our aspirations we have indeed reached personal and collective milestones.

In 1974-75 Westview experienced its own Renaissance, and we witnessed together the rebirth of school spirit. There has been a revival of the belief in an educational system which so many times appeared less than effective. There has been a restoration of hope and of optimism to alleviate the acutely contagious apathy which has become the watch word of our decade.

The past four years have meant many things to many people. For each of us here tonight what truly remains of Westview is the memory of a common, yet unique experience from which we derive the fortitude of spirit to leave the safety of familiar surroundings is a memory which must be cherished. We have assuredly retained a place of special importance in the most private corner of our hearts and the most significant part of our minds for Westview because we know that we will always keep with us those people and experiences which are most meaningful to us. They become a part of us. This evening with gratitude and respect we welcome Westview into our minds and hearts forever.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

The school year of 1975-76 will always have a special significance for all of us. My pride and faith in both the staff and students were again confirmed by the manner in which you surmounted the problems and tensions that existed.

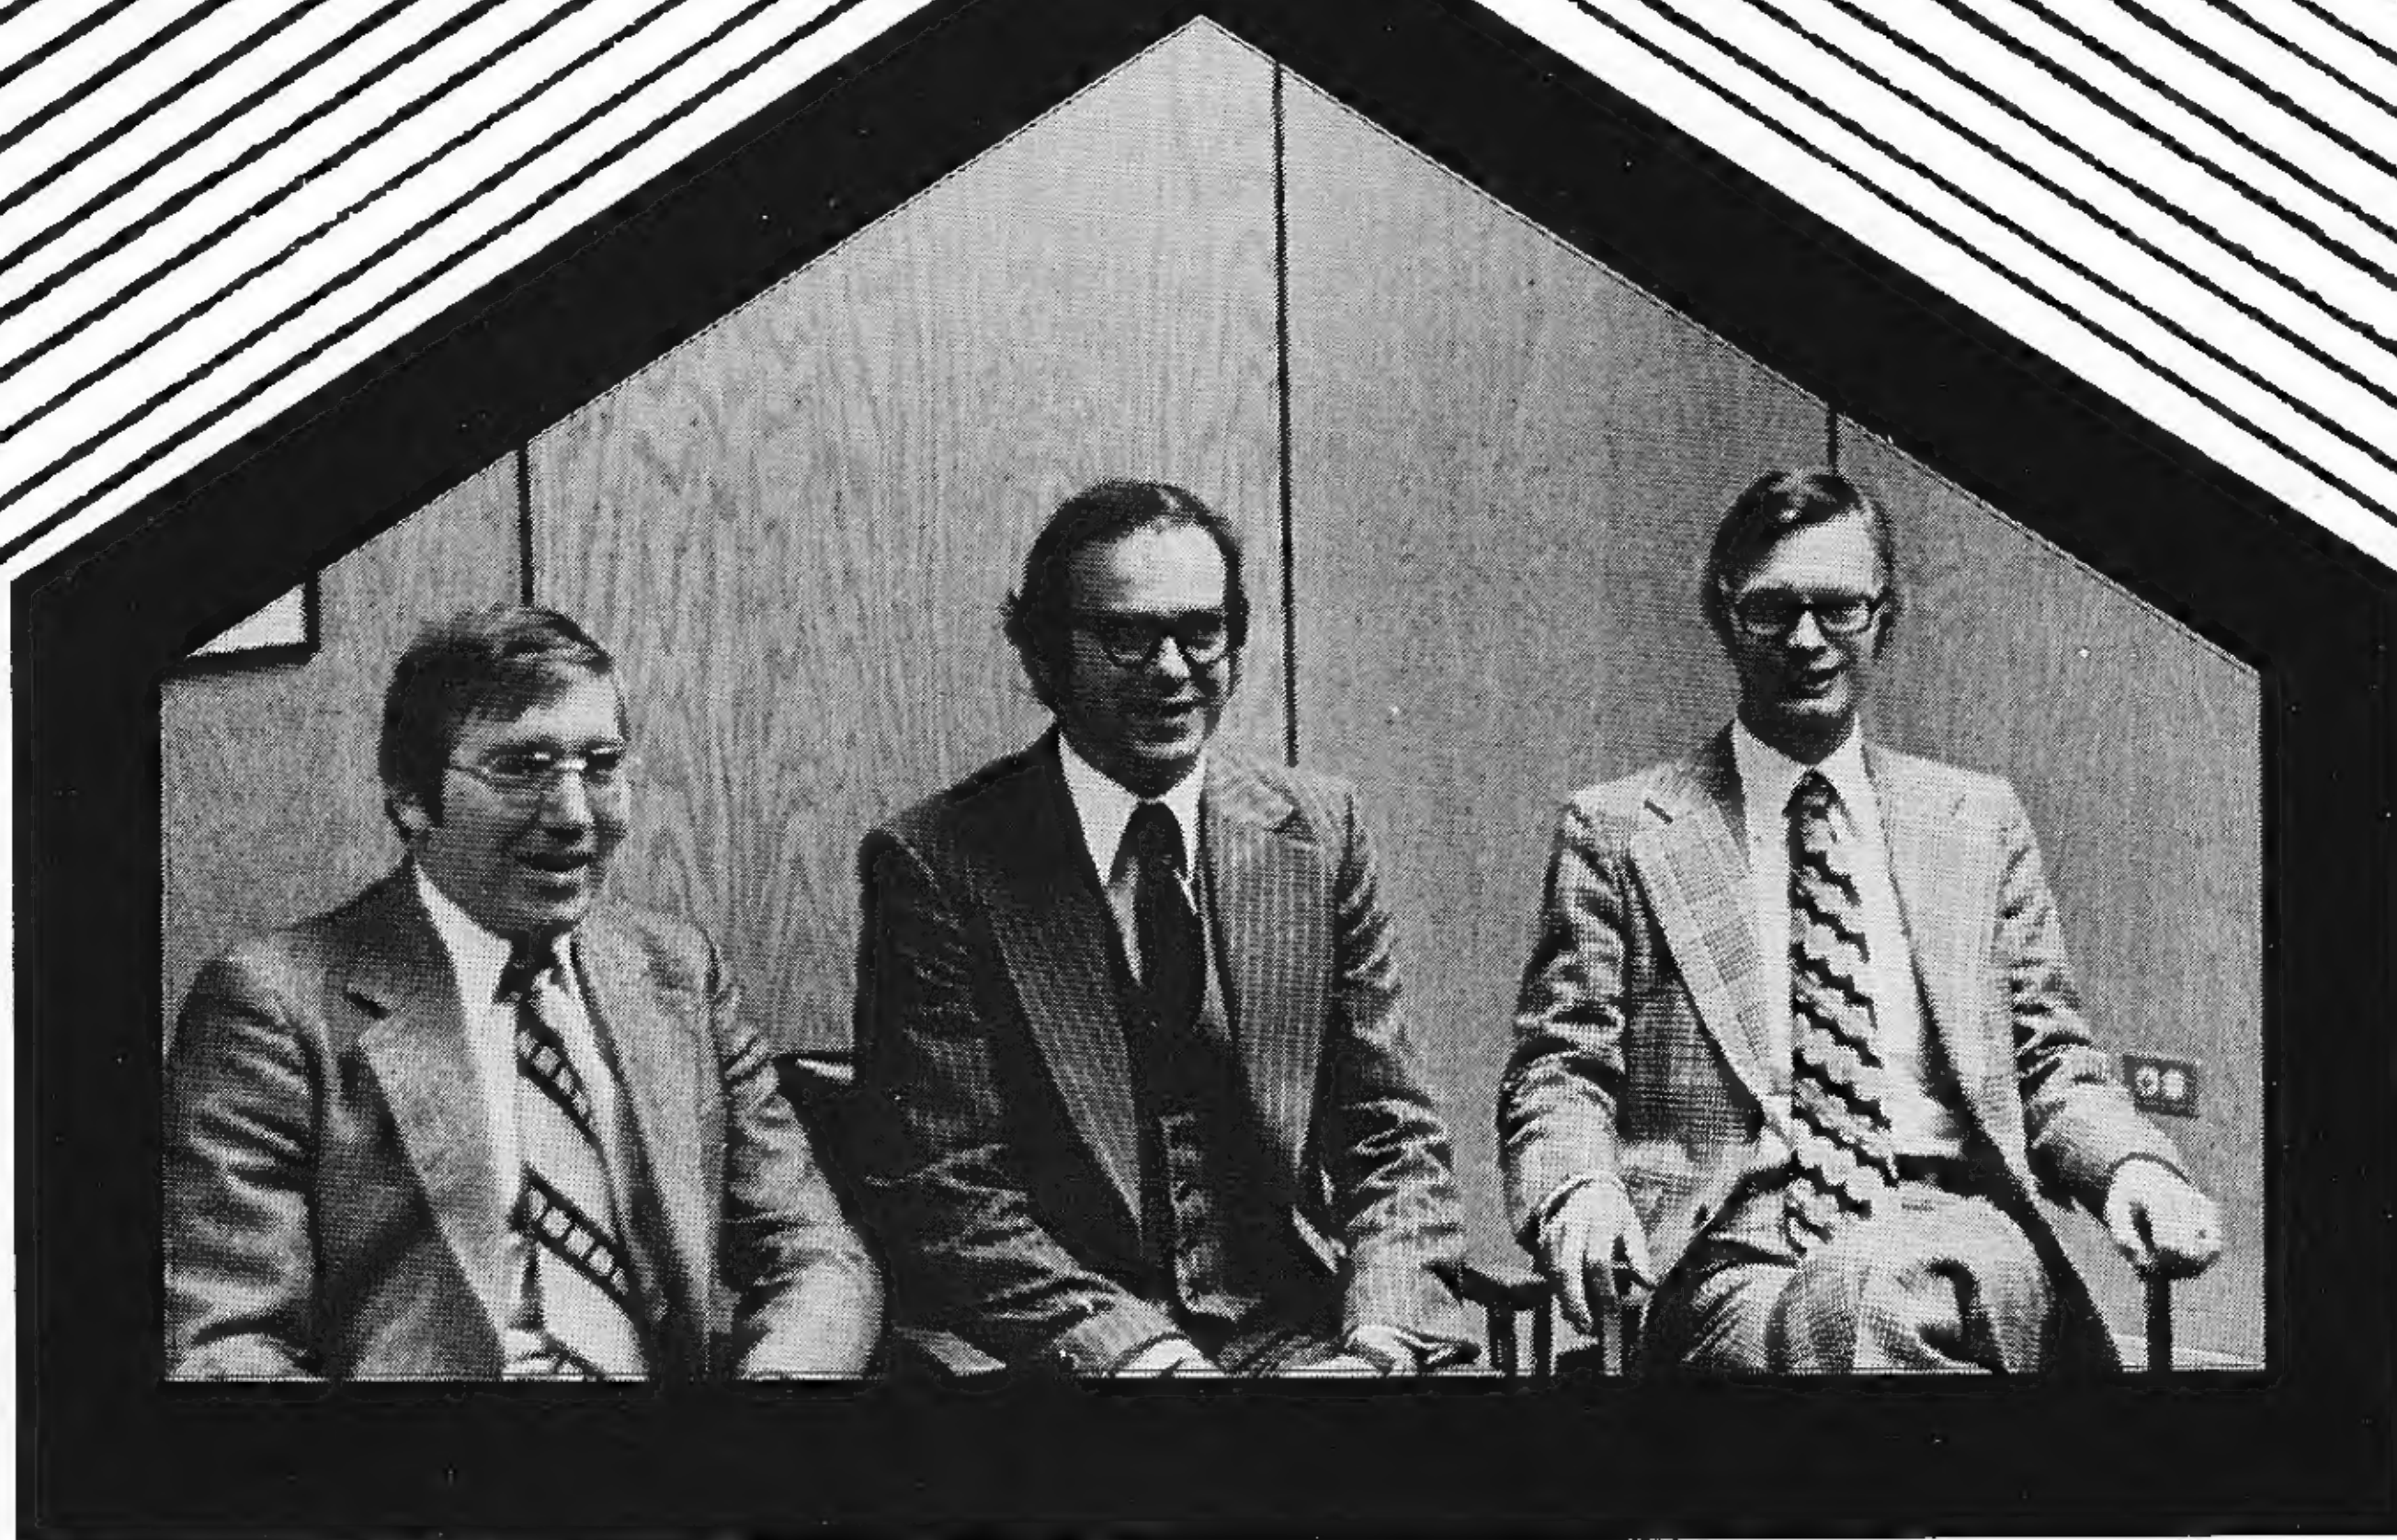

Many fine and rich traditions have been established at Westview in the past nine years. In an impersonal age dominated by machines, I am sure that your personal relationships with your teachers, your involvement in the school's program and your academic achievement have contributed to the enrichment of your lives.

For the countless hours and the painstaking labour of the Yearbook Committee, my sincere thanks for this edition. It was your enthusiasm, determination and individual effort that made this publication a success - congratulations.

To the graduating class, I wish you the best of luck in your post-secondary future.

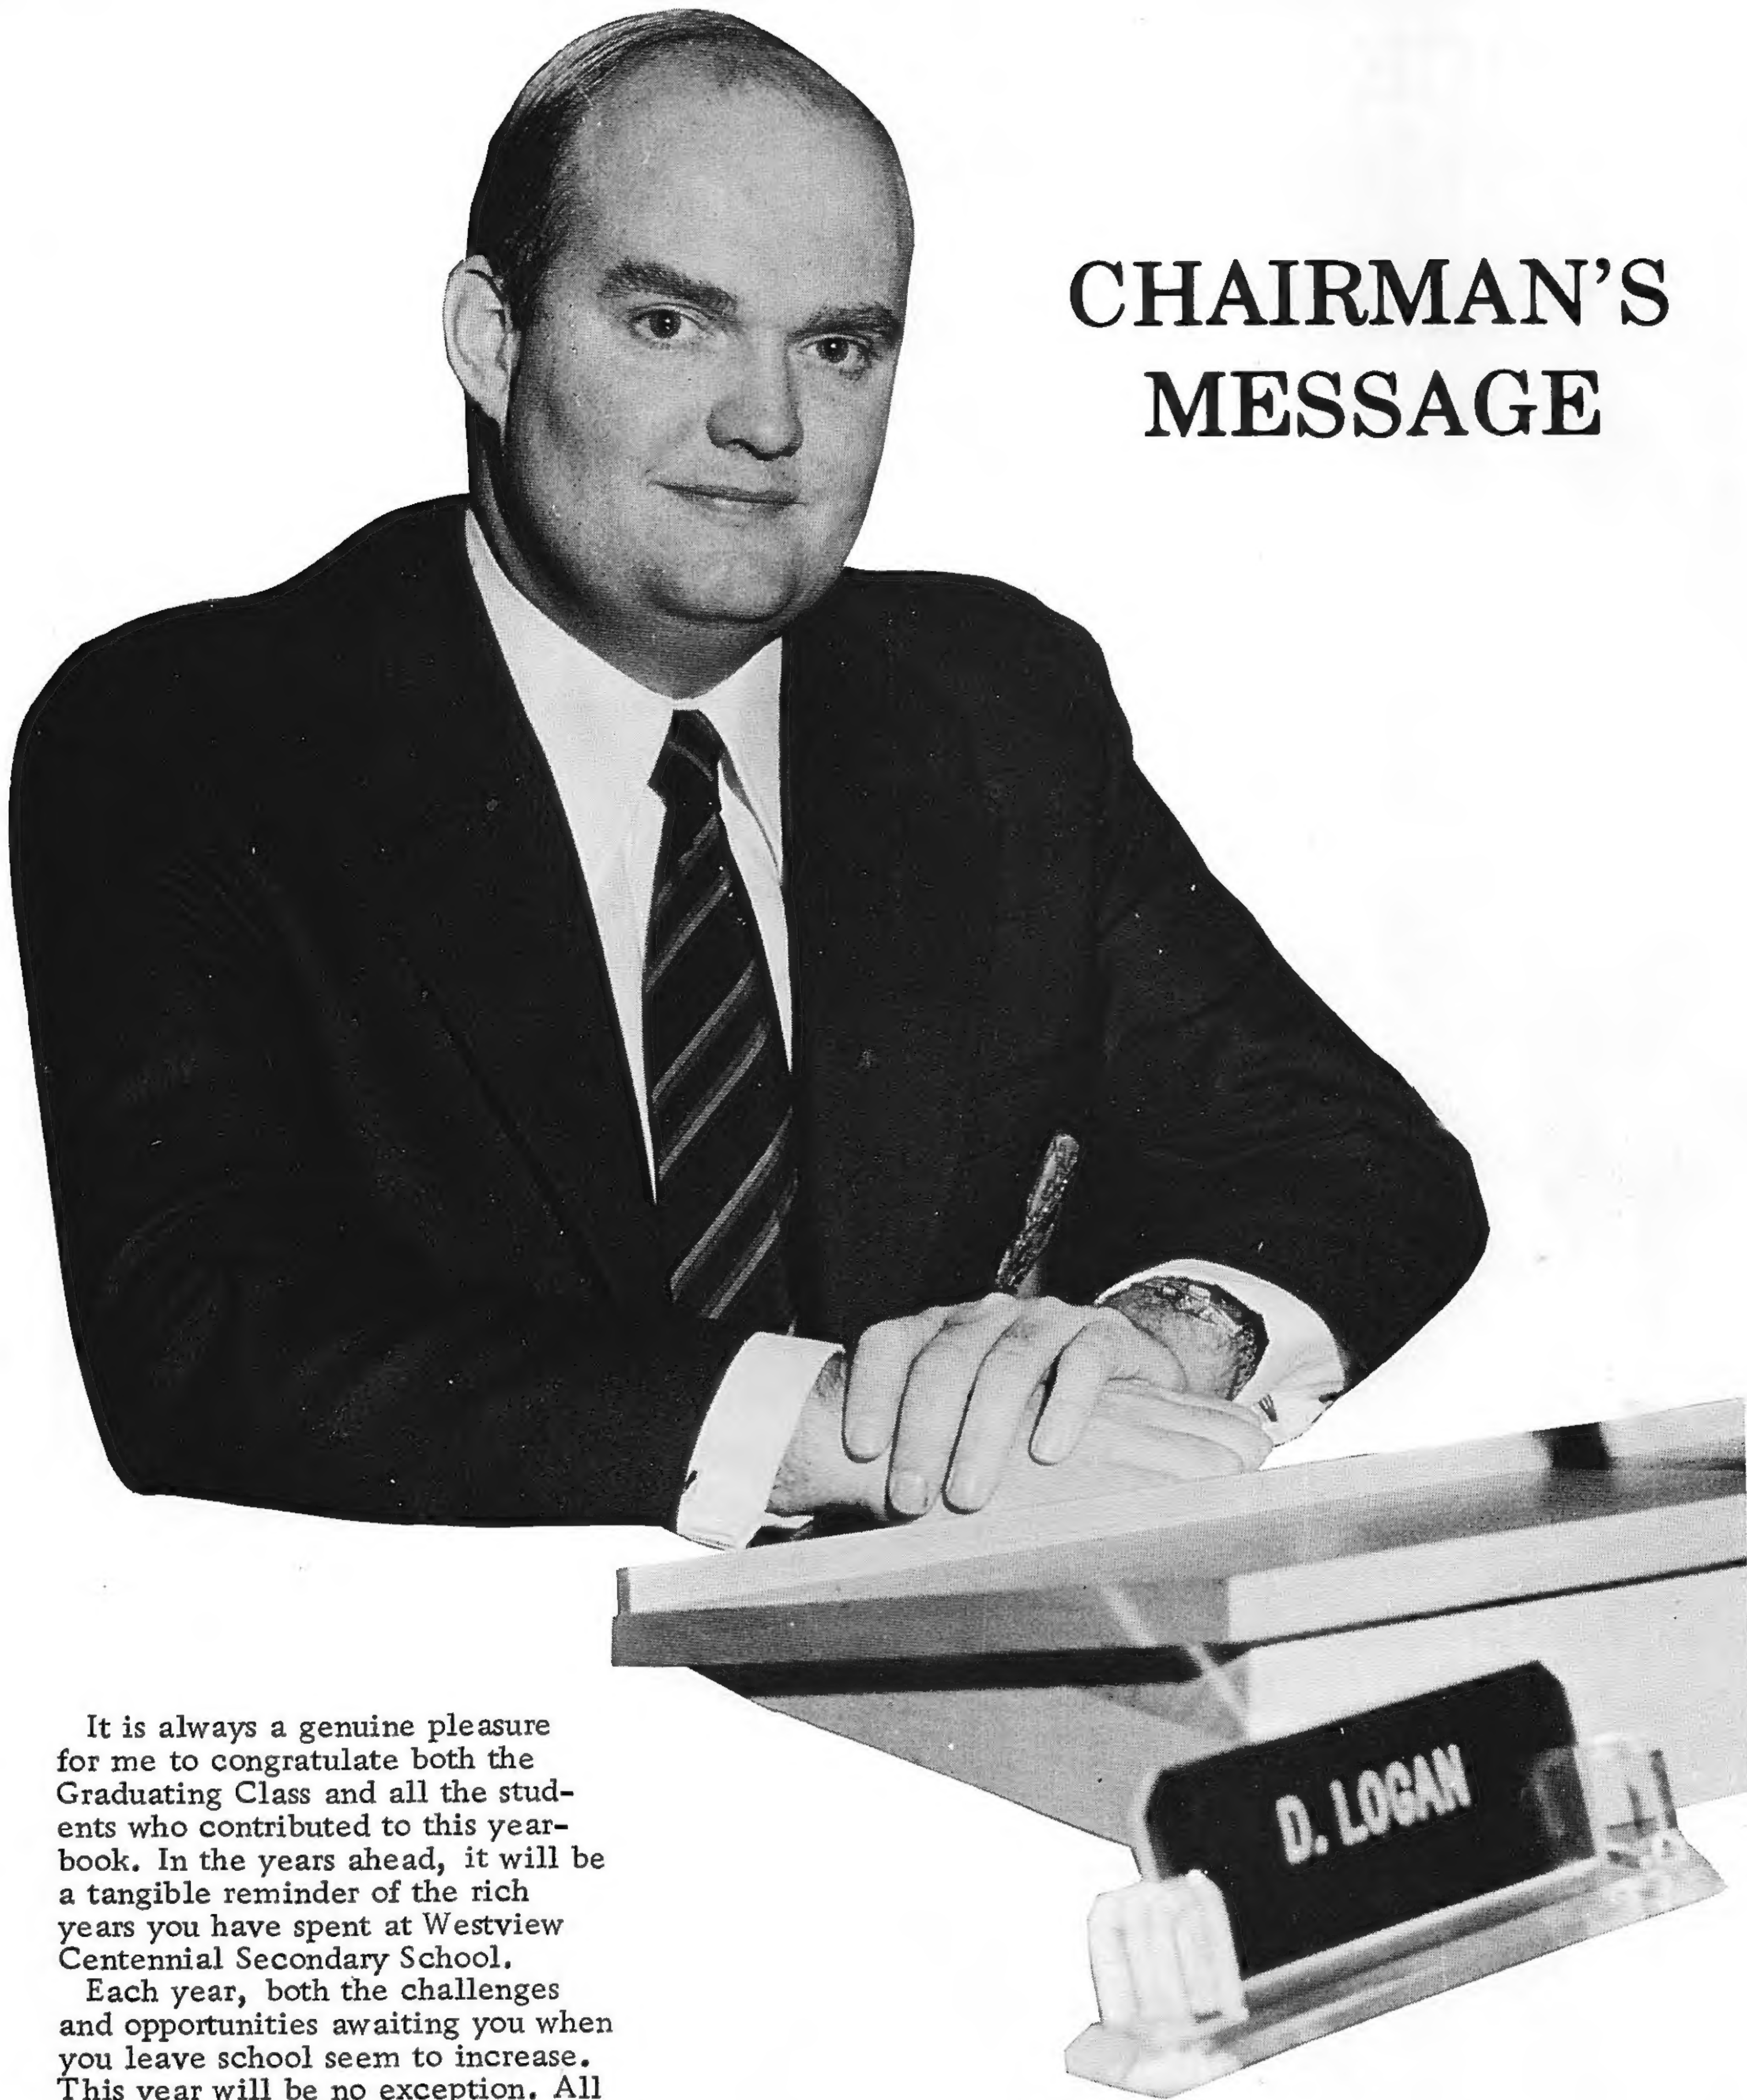

A. F. Bell

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

It is always a genuine pleasure for me to congratulate both the Graduating Class and all the students who contributed to this year-book. In the years ahead, it will be a tangible reminder of the rich years you have spent at Westview Centennial Secondary School.

Each year, both the challenges and opportunities awaiting you when you leave school seem to increase. This year will be no exception. All of us hope that you have found the North York school you have attended to be both satisfying and stimulating. More important, however, is our hope that we have given you the means to contribute to our society and provide leadership in the future.

On behalf of the Board of Education, congratulations and Good Luck in all your endeavours.

POETRY

You sit there
You're lazy.
You are also funny looking.
I suppose you can't help that.
You're useless without me.
And I hate to tell you, but I'm not too crazy about you.
Don't you have anything to say?
All you do is take up space and collect dust.
Alone you are useless.
You're about as independent as nothing.

.....

I'm sorry.
I didn't mean it.
I do like you
Come here.
Take it easy.
I realize you are a beautiful creation.
Yes together we can make beautiful music
It's just - Well
Why do guitars look so stupid?

SUGGESTIONS FOR A MORE MEANINGFUL LIFE

Be peaceful,
For aggression is the Root of all evil.
Bear no arms,
For one bullet in your gun
Is worth two in your head.
Tell others not your secrets,
For they are yours, and
Meant to be kept secret from others.
Express yourself, to both
Yourself and others, For even
If you are not understood by others,
You will understand yourself.
Love not one, but many.
For love is universal,
And therefore everything deserves love.
Listen to all words spoken,
For even fools such as yourself,
Deserve to be heard.
But most of all, be yourself,
For you are unique,
And no one else, can be you.

David K. C. Johnson

"FOLLOW THE LEADER"

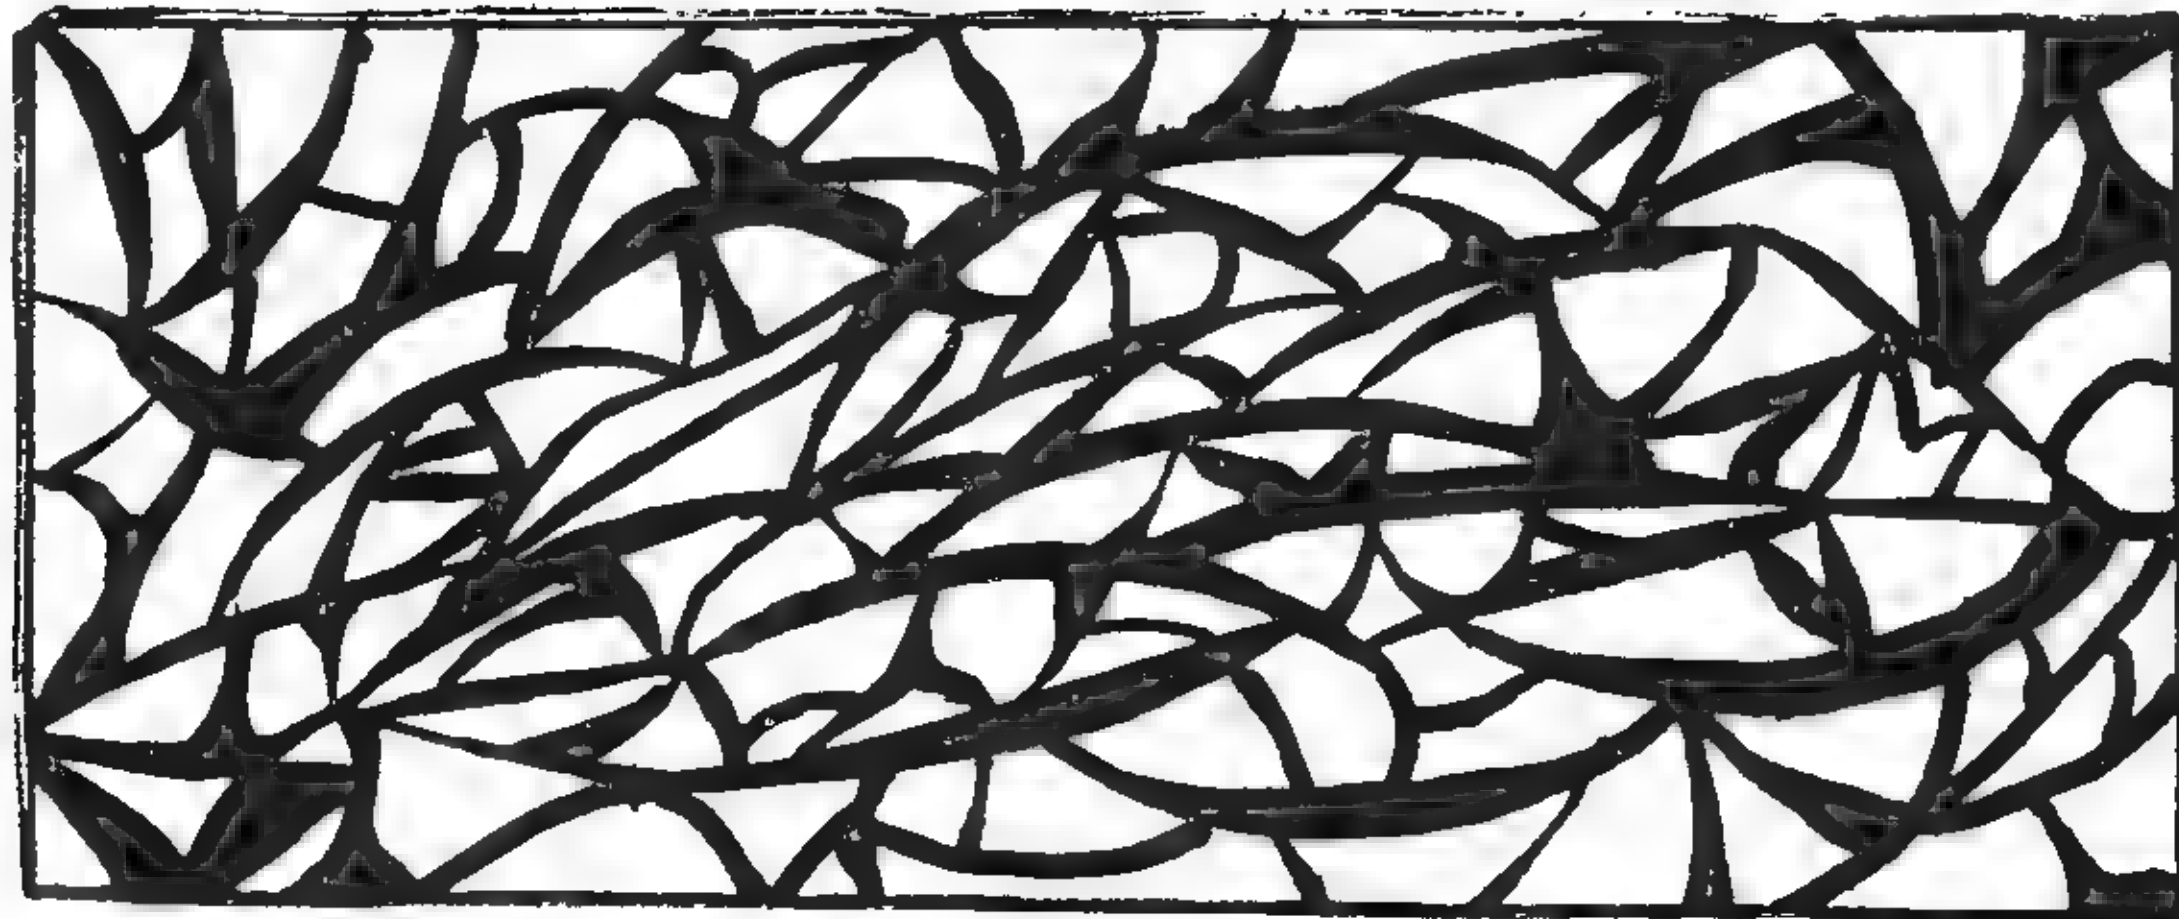

Young child, idolize your elders while you still can. Years will pass and as they fade perfection is lost.
Young child, they can do no wrong, for now.
Later, views will change, environments clash.
Suddenly, perfection dissolves and in its place - surprise
They make mistakes too.
Follow changing examples
One day these will appear to be wrong.
- shocked? -
They were young children once too.

Loreen Teoli

"ESCAPE"

I am alone
But not for long
People are strange
Escape to a song.
Go away
Friendship - I'll lose it
Leave me alone Let me escape to my music
Leave me be
To lie here on the ground
Don't disturb me
I'm escaping to sound.
I am not lonely
Solitude is my choice
Nothing is beautiful
But escaping to voice.
If you choose - join me
Let my joy be prolonged
For you are beautiful
Escape to my song
Now we are together
Just we and our song
But like seeing the rainbow
Our love is not long
You're gone now forever
Our love is no more
I knew it would fade
It has escaped me one more.
I am alone
But not for long
People are strange
Escape to a song.
Escape to a song
Escape.

Life is full of obstacles
The further you plunge the greater the barriers.
At times in life, you can't turn back,
For there is no path to turn to.
Those who are stopped are lost,
Those who overcome are found.

Dennis Moir

LIFE IS ALWAYS THERE

I can't hear the music,
see the light,
feel the fine villa,
smell the sweet flowers,
taste the appetiti,
But the world is still out there,
For I am still alive.

OPEN

Why can't we fasten
To try the life the blind,
To move by compass,
And not be confined by land.
To live a life of our own
Without worrying if we shall be
Yes this is the life for me and you,
As all men know, and say.

David Johnson

CHANGES - I REMAIN THE SAME

I can't lose
My lonesome blues,
No matter how hard I try.
These people don't understand,
Nor do they really try.
They just nod their heads and say
To themselves, "Why?"
So I wash away this loneliness,
With another pint of beer.
But when I wake up in the morning,
This loneliness will still be here.

Directed To: Everyone who's tired a lot,
In a pint of lonely beer.

David Johnson

A TIN CAN

A tin pop can,
Mutilated entirely,
With rust forming at both ends.

Submerged half in dirt,
Slowly disappears,
For the new grass grows.

IN MEMORY OF THE TEACHERS' STRIKE

The majority of students have no personal grudges against the teachers of Westview. A lot of them are considered our most admired personalities. However, it disappoints us greatly to think that everyone in our society, even those from whom we learn and respect are only looking out for themselves. It is a shame that our society had no better way of dealing with their problems but to take strike action. It is the students who suffer. OK, we admit for some of us it was a beautiful holiday, time to relax and enjoy ourselves. But, for other students it wasn't so enjoyable. The strike created a giant VOID in the school year for everyone. So, here's to the first teachers' strike---may it also be the last!

REMEMBER

There must be some way I can get their attention.

Anybody going my way?

THE CAFE

O. K. Guys, where did you throw my sandwich?

I'll see your apple core and raise you three orange peels.

THERE WAS AN OLD TEACHER WHO LIVED IN A SHOE,
HE HAD SO MANY LOVING STUDENTS HE DIDN'T KNOW WHAT TO DO.

WORLD RECORD

SELF-SUPPORTING CIRC

LE

On October 23, 1975, Westview attained world supremacy for the largest self-supporting circle ever!! With 1512 people, we broke the previous record of 1410 held in New Zealand . . . ALL RIGHT!!!

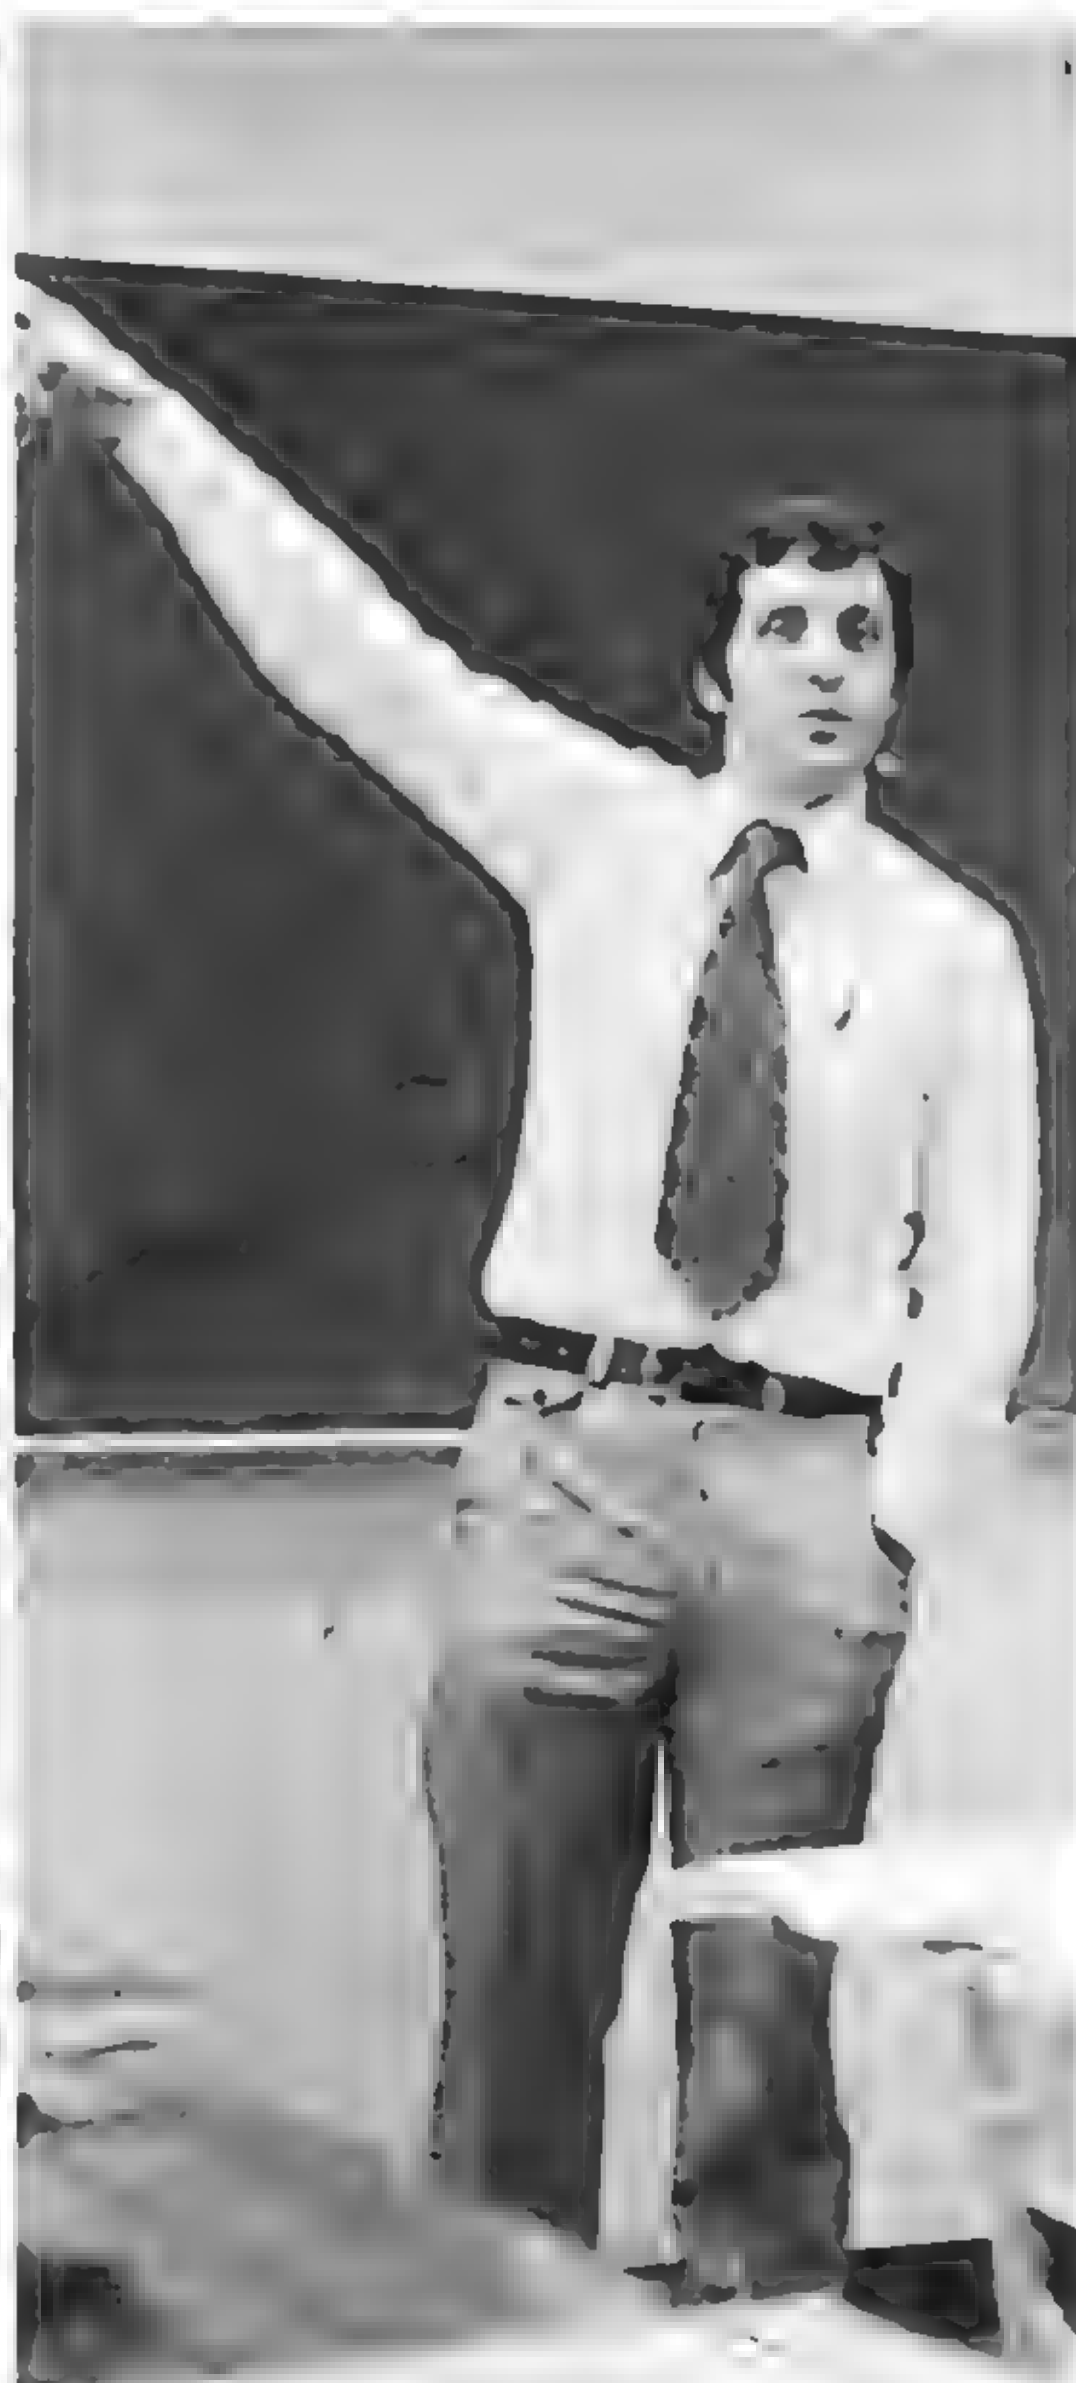

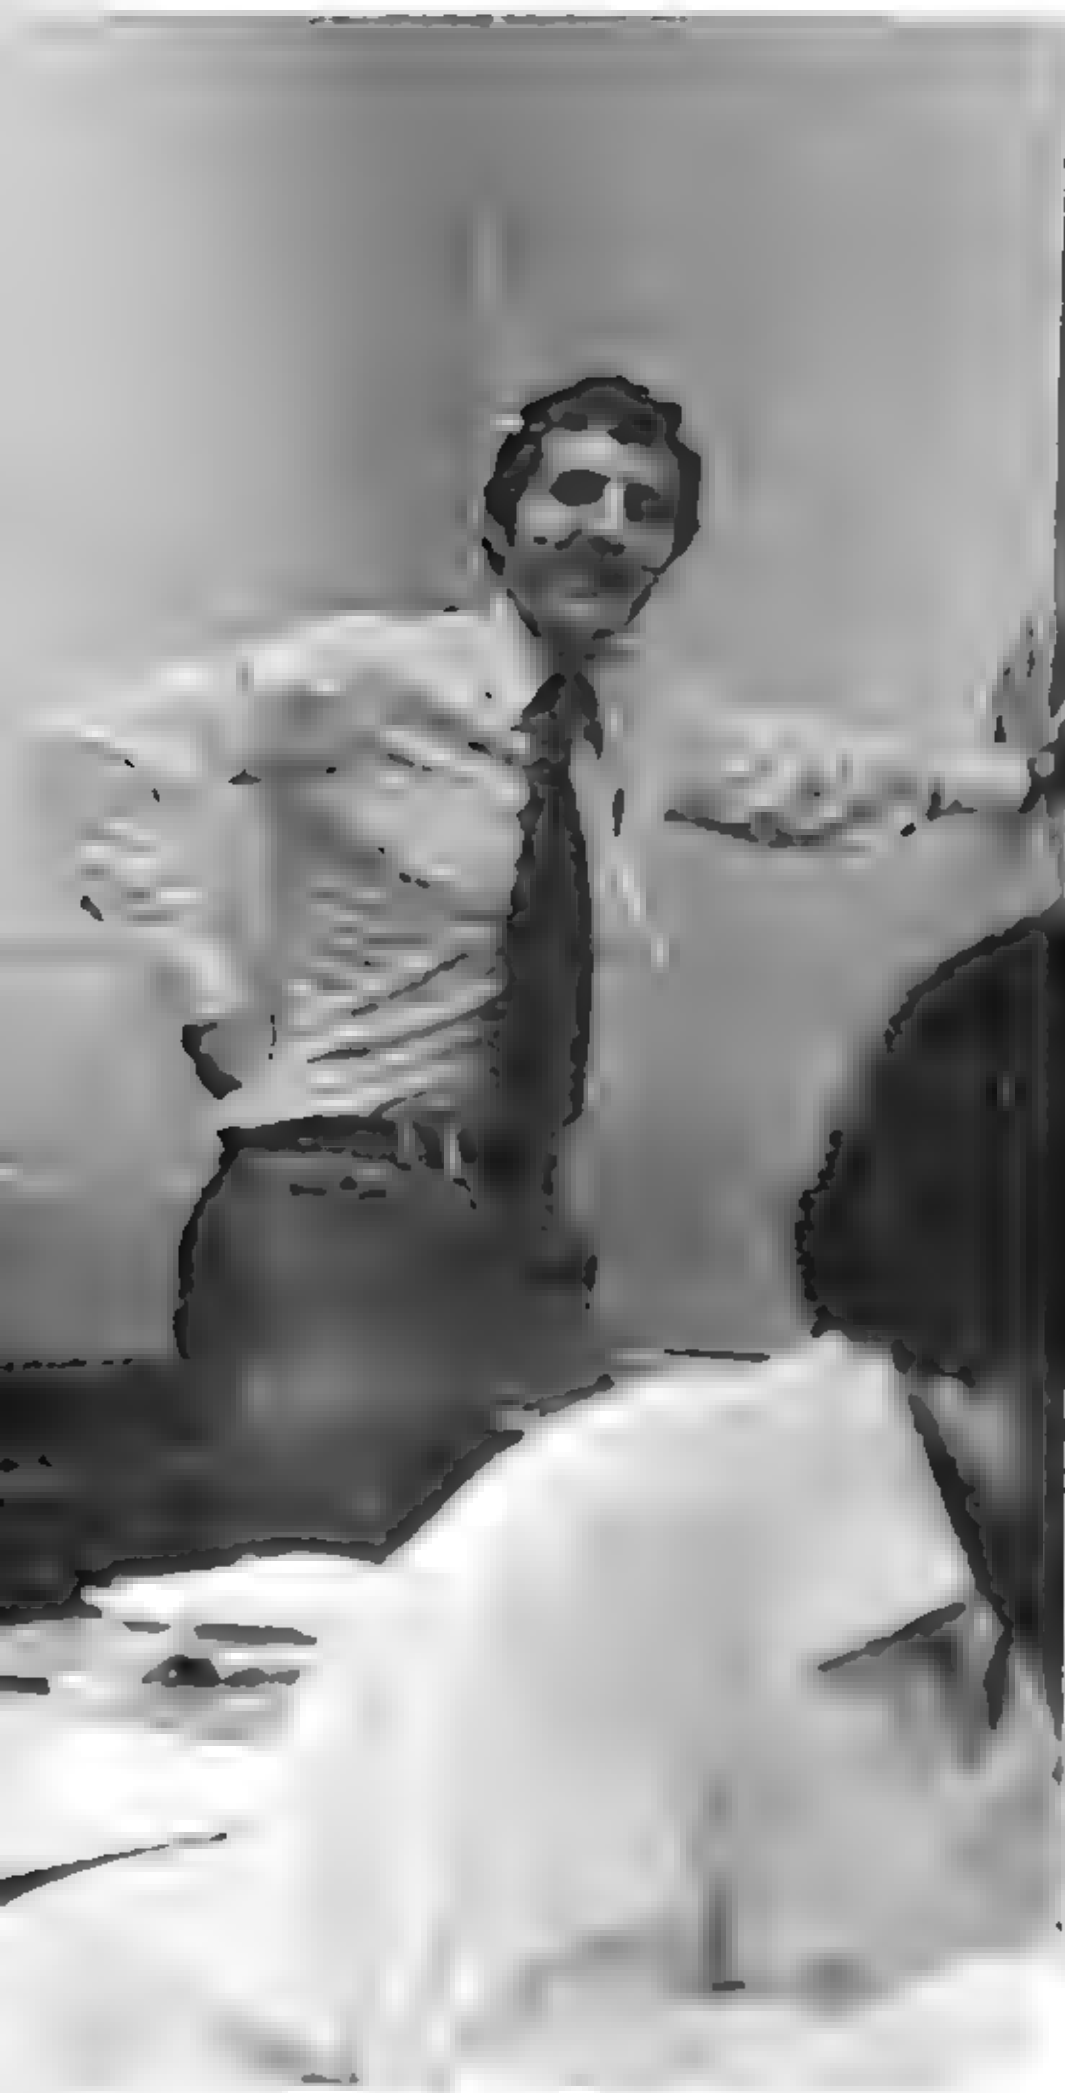

The epitome of nerd.

No, this is not the insane asylum. . .

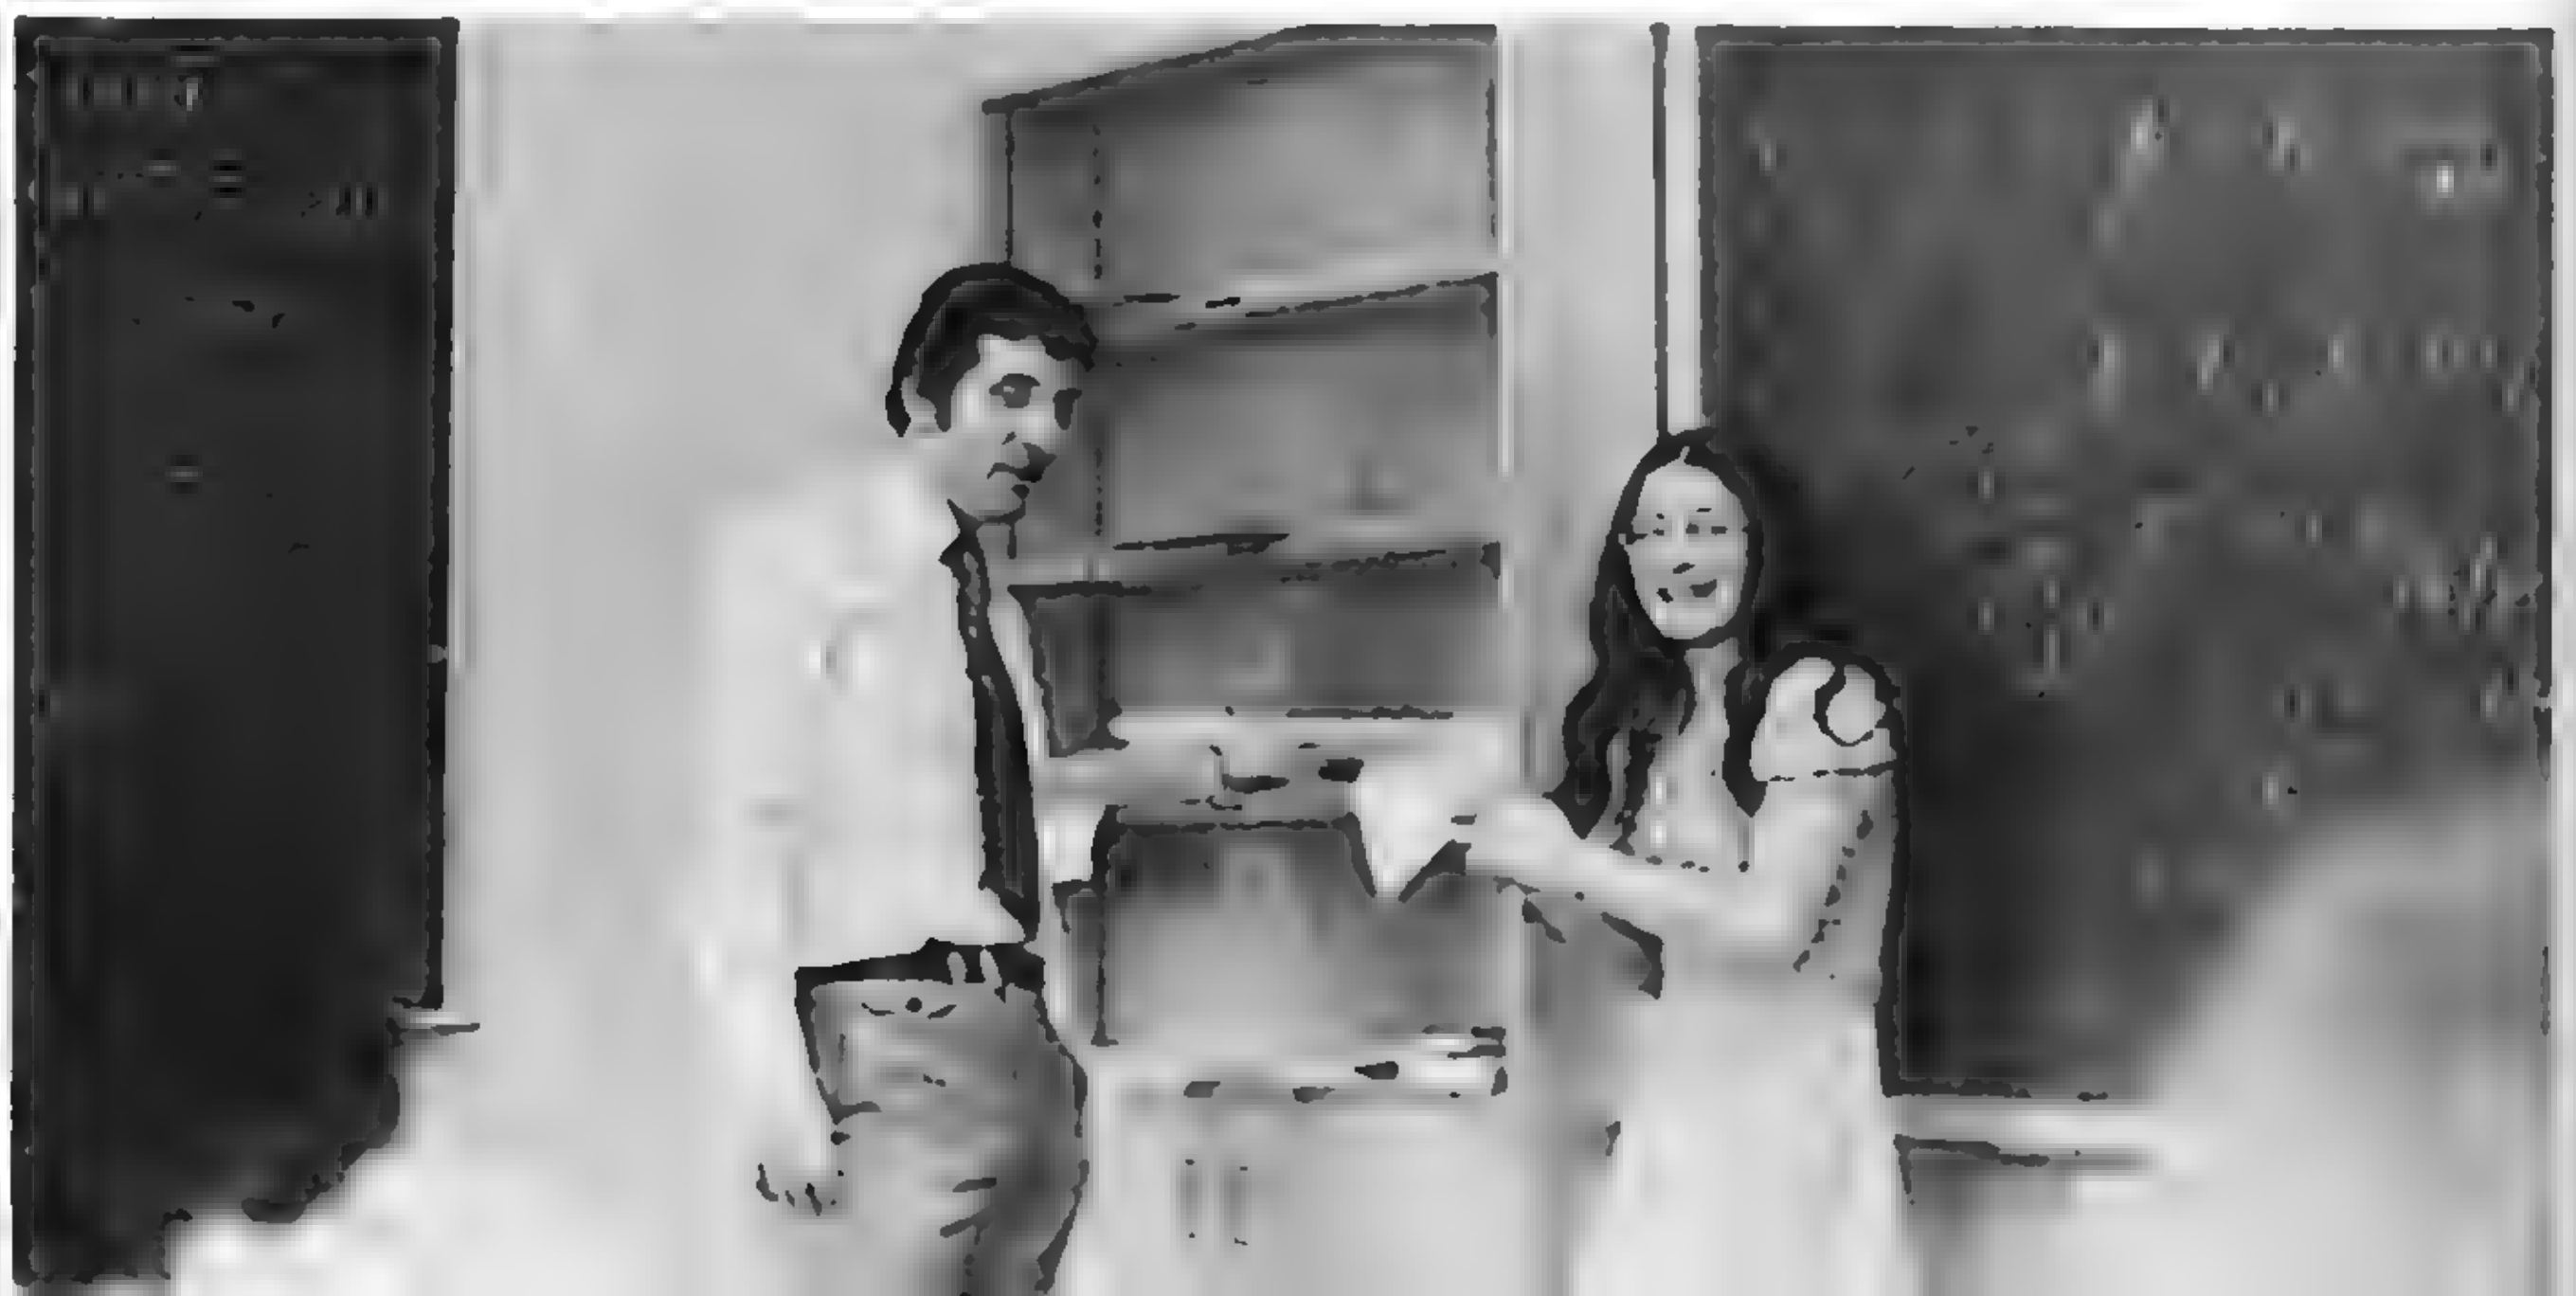

They call this science?

"It won't bite . . . "

Hey! Don't kid me.

But I don't want to go.

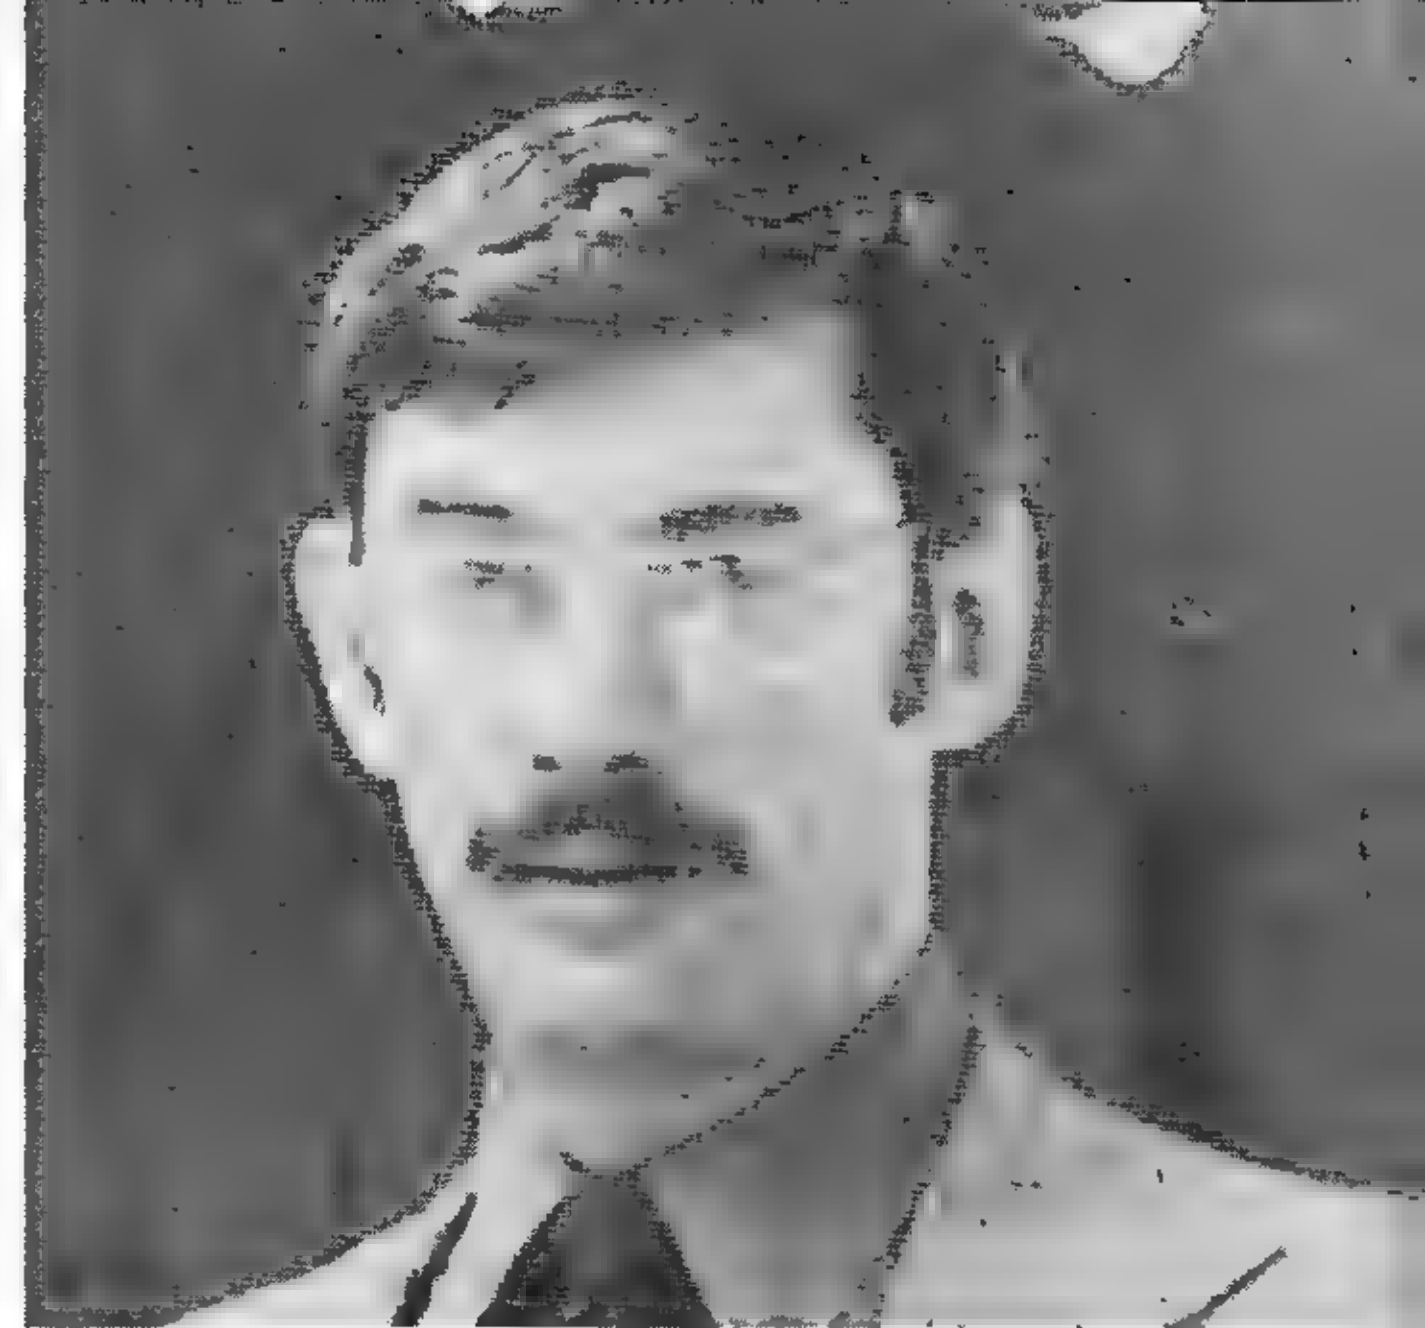

Don't Worry, he isn't kidding you.

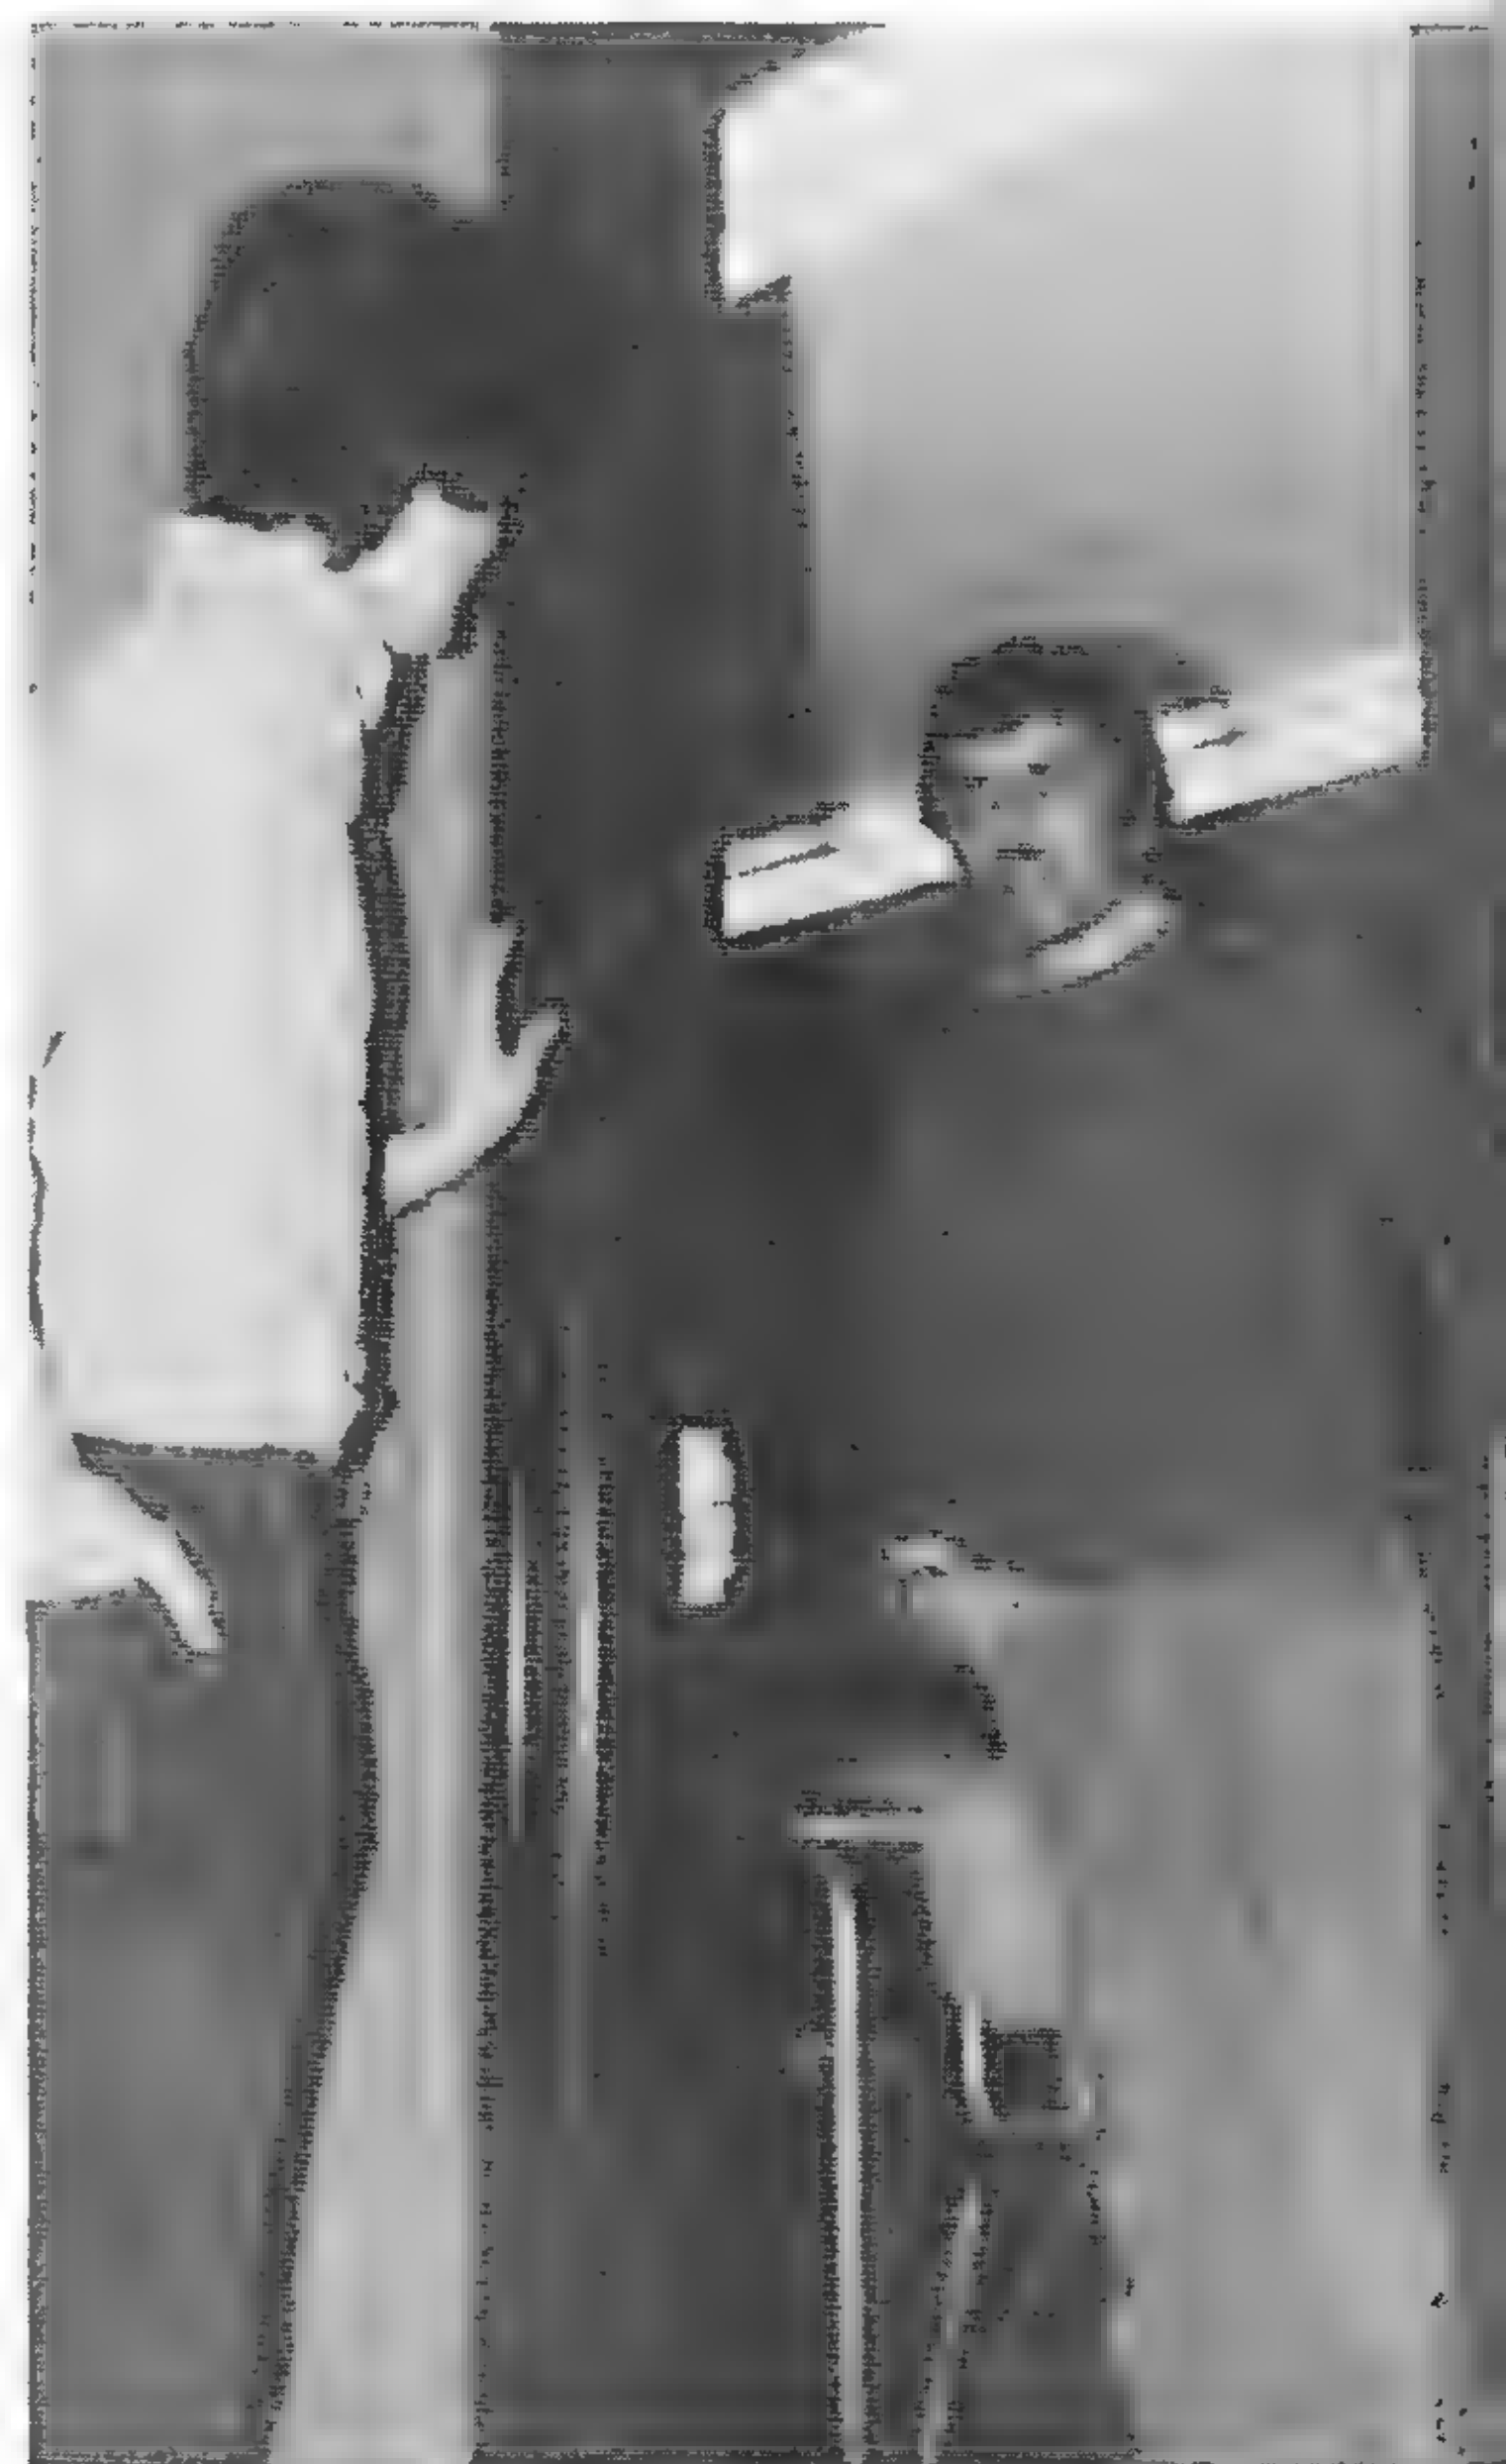

That's good; are ya going my way?

AT WESTVIEW WE'RE WILDCATS

"Yes, the Physics Dep't tells better jokes than the Math Dep't."

Perfection!

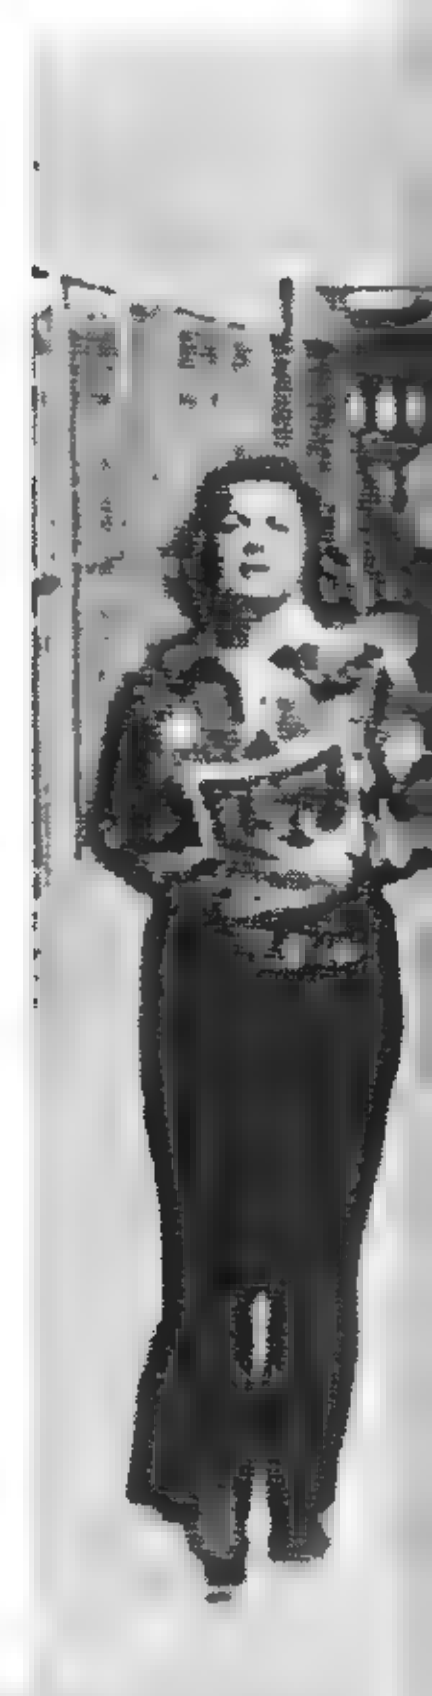

"Do you believe it?"

"Oh I see what you mean! You think the English Dep't has the best jokes."

Never ask Velma Vapid to repeat that basketball schedule she was mumbling over the P.A. system, or she'll squeal the mike even longer the next time she's on the air.

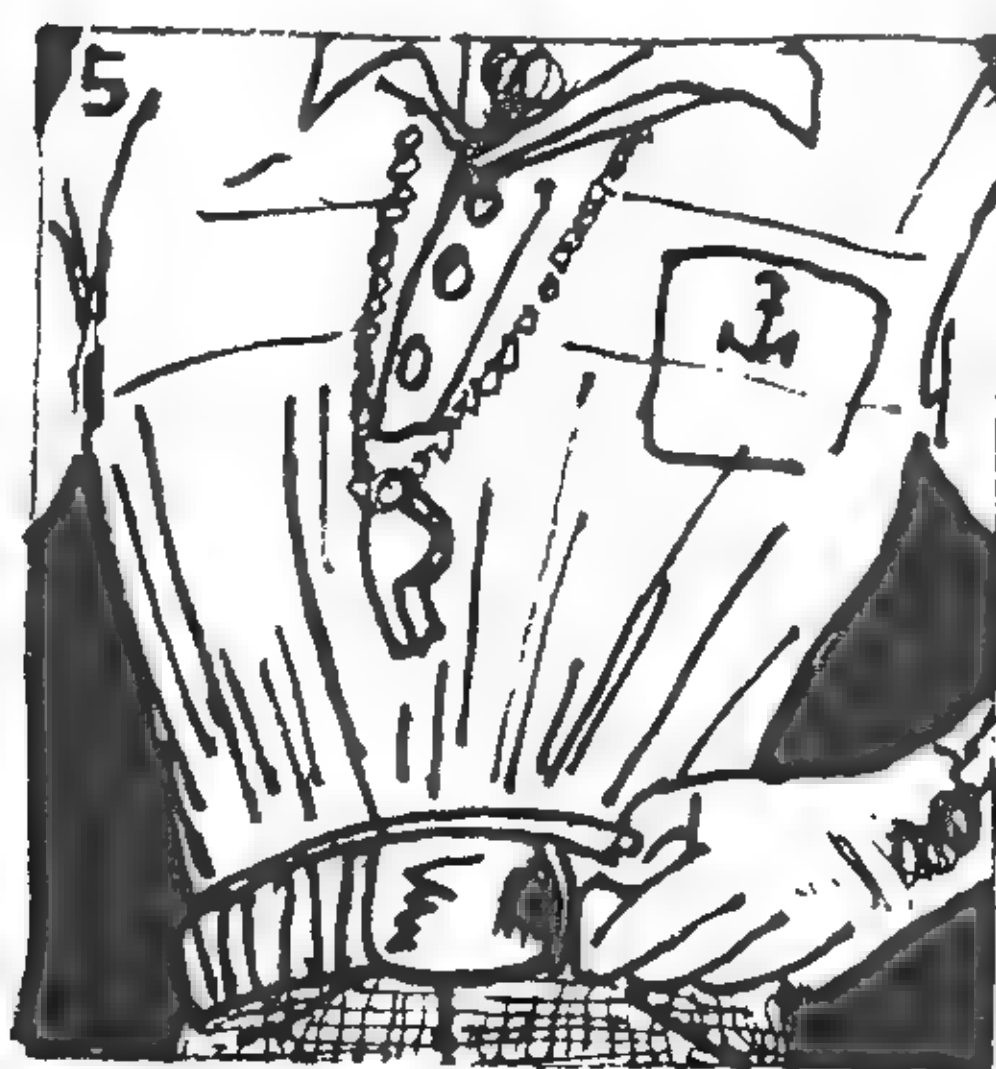

Dudley Strip clutch, who drives the bus, hates all kids regardless of race, creed, or colour, but parents never believe that because he always smiles at THEM.

It's "Dusty" Feinstein who runs the school at night. That's when he jams all the locker doors and puts an extra coat of wax on that hallway floor where you broke your leg last year.

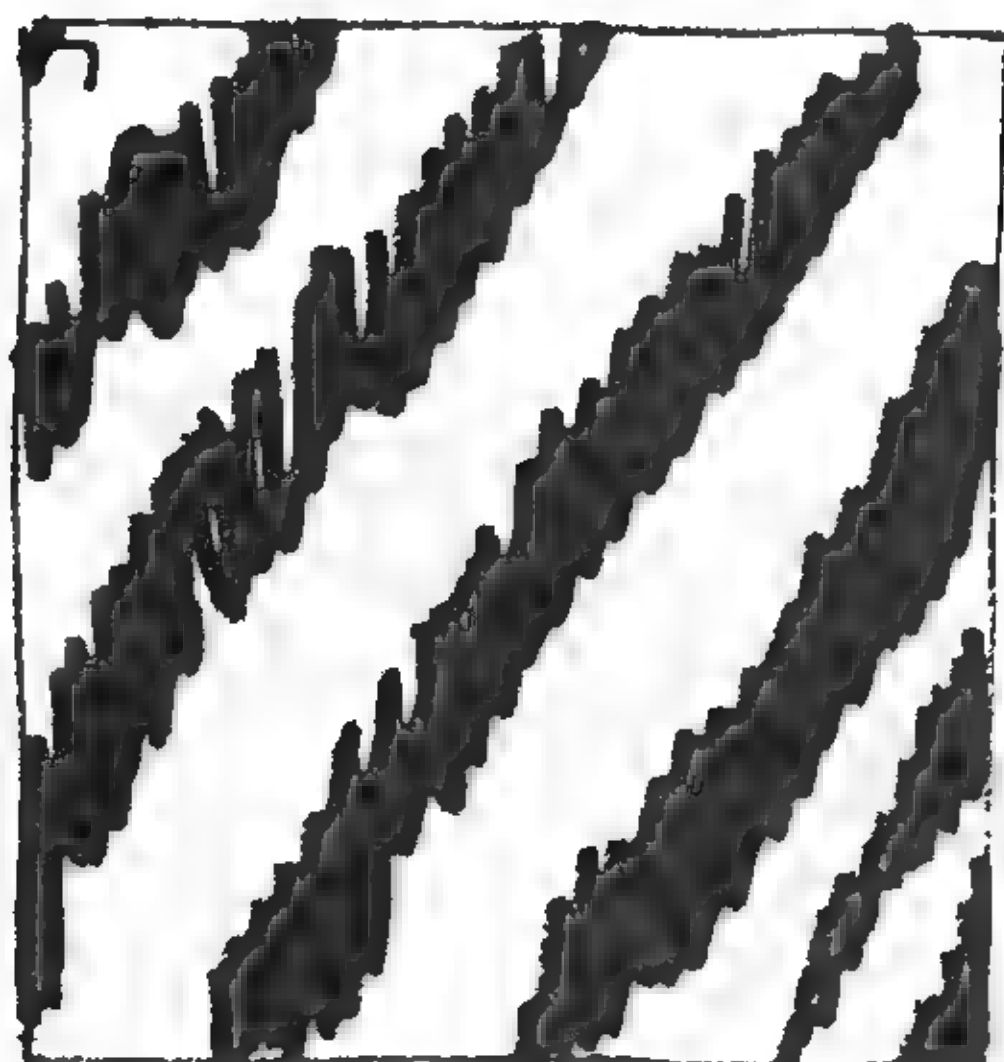

Why is this woman smiling? Why is she unclothed? What is she doing in a yearbook? And why did you read this blurb first?

Think the school shouldn't build that new basketball court? Don't tell "Stretch" Kneejerk, the basketball coach, or he'll have them build you into the floor.

If Penelope Pinch, R.N., says you have gout or arthritis, take her word for it, because if you don't, she'll make sure you get them. Then she'll give you the aspirin you went to see her for.

Don't try looking for the illusive, Lance W. Lost, Technician, he's never around when you need him, except at the very last minute.

Avoid this person. Do not ask his name. Do not ask what he's doing in school, or what he does with that funny little chain. Do not even think about what he can do to you. But he'll probably do it to you anyway.

Carrie Cholera wouldn't be caught dead eating her own food in the school cafeteria, but you will be if she can do anything about it. What's even worse, she'll make you eat yesterday's Peach Cobbler (which doubles as today's Blueberry)!

ORGANIZATIONS

Susan Leach - Editor

Dennis Moir - Assistant Editor

I don't believe anyone can possibly imagine what a task it is to produce a book such as this without personally experiencing it. At times I wished I could have just snapped my fingers and received an excellent finished product. But when I was lost in the thoughts that the WHOLE WORLD was against us, I was always assured that it was truly only HALF and that everything could be overcome.

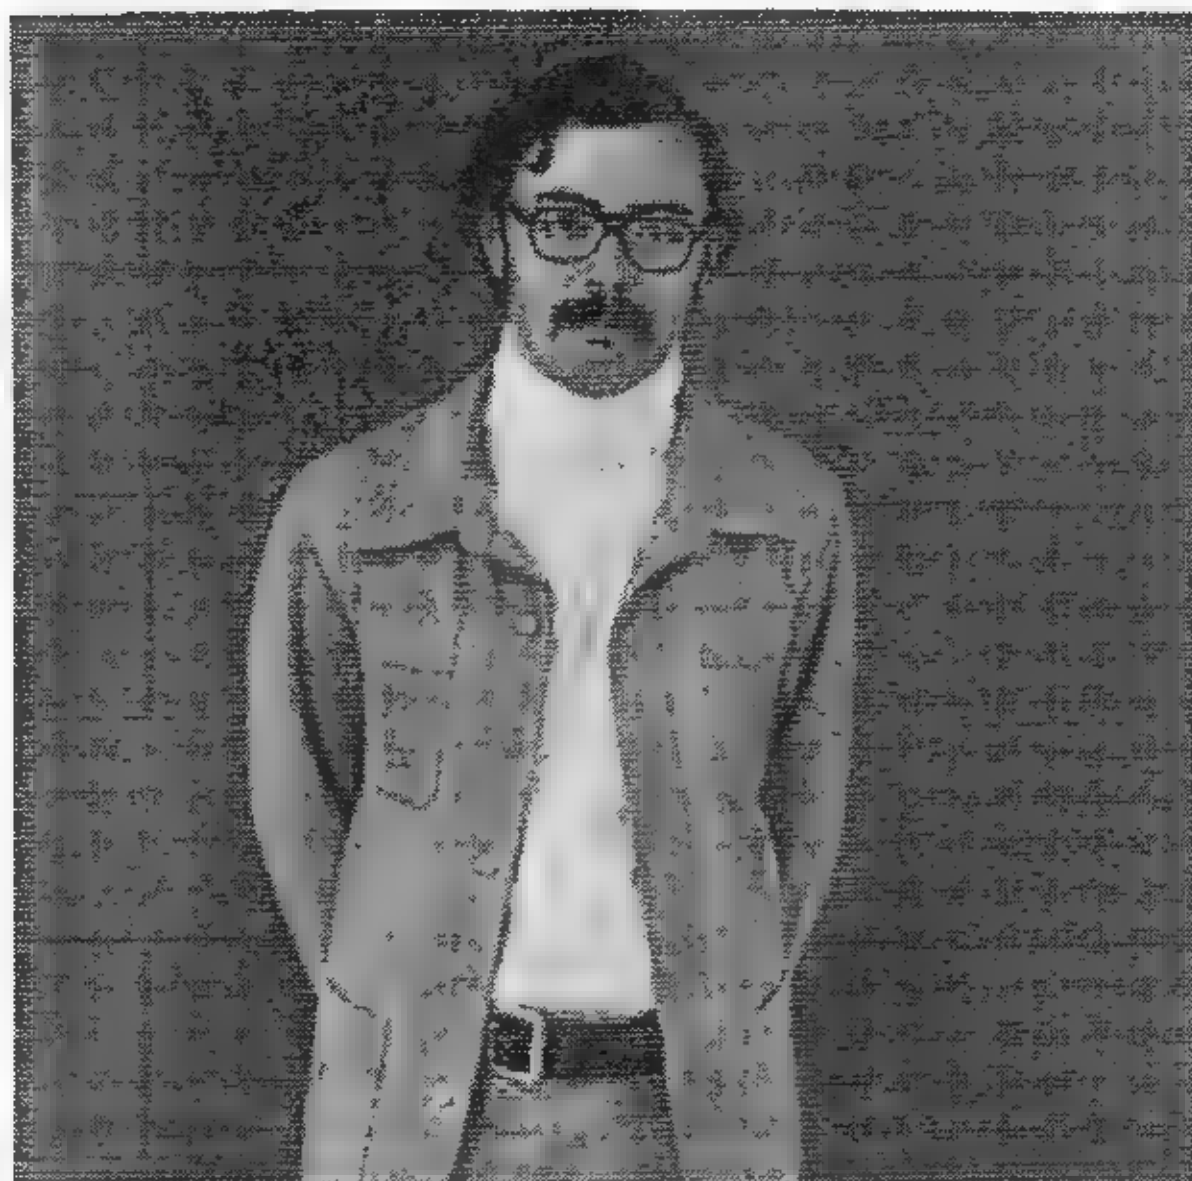

By having overcome our problems we all realize that without the pressures and hard work this book wouldn't mean half as much to us as it does now. Every member of the Yearbook Staff is proud of the contribution we each have made. We have done it for YOU as well as ourselves and have tried to include everything and everybody.

With the help of the best yearbook staff I could possibly hope for, the job of being editor became much easier and a lot more fun. I especially want to thank Dennis, Dave and Sailesh for the moral support they have given me and the tremendous amount of effort they have poured into this book.

Finally, I would like to thank every student and staff member of Westview because without you, our job wouldn't exist. I hope by looking through this book now and in the future years, your memory will "focus" on all of the precious moments of Westview Centennial 1975-76. After all, isn't that what Yearbooks are for?

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

Thanks also should go to Chris Beaune, Jeff Macmillan, Will MacDonald, Darren Watts and everyone else who helped us complete our job.

COMMITTEE

Maureen Dorey , Prime Minister

Carol Pickles,

Tom Morris,

"The 1974-75 school year at Westview was a totally new and different experience." So began Cid Paiva's message to the students of Westview last year. What she said was true. In 1974-75, Cid brought Westview students together in a spirit of identity and togetherness that hadn't been seen in this school for years --- a truly new and different experience.

At the beginning of 1975-76, this spirit was still present, and-growing rapidly. We, the students, felt a greater sense of belonging here, a greater bond with our fellow students.

This bond, this sense of belonging, could have been destroyed when the school year was interrupted by a nine-week teacher's strike. Bitterness, tension and hostility could have marred the rest of the year. It did in some other schools, but it could not here. Fortunately, the spirit of friendship and unity that to me means "Westview" stayed with us to make a 1975-76 one of the richest, fullest years that Westview ever had.

We hope that looking through this book will bring back to you all the good times we had here this year. Blot out the bad times and remember all the experiences that made you the person you are becoming.

On behalf of the Student Parliament, I thank you for all your support, and for the fulfillment you gave us, knowing that we were working for people who appreciated us. I thank the Parliament for every piece of work or advice or encouragement, that made my job, keeping Westview together, the easiest any Prime Minister ever had.

A black and white portrait of a woman with long, dark, wavy hair. She is smiling and looking directly at the camera. She is wearing a light-colored, possibly white, top with a small brooch or pin at the neckline. The background is a plain, light color. The image has a slightly grainy texture, characteristic of older printed photographs.

Participation and involvement by students from 140 schools throughout Metro and districts. Your rep, one of many contributing ideas through Simpsons Collegiate Club.

The Simpson's logo, featuring the word "Simpsons" in a stylized, handwritten font. The letter 'S' is large and loops around the word. The 'i' has a dot, and the 's' at the end has a long, sweeping tail. The logo is black and set against a white background.

IT ALL STARTED JUST ABOUT HERE.

Over a hundred years ago, Timothy Eaton opened the small shop that grew into a coast-to-coast network. And now, just a few yards from where he began, the new Toronto Eaton Centre is rapidly rising, destined to become the vital centre of Canada's fastest growing city.

The store is based on solid foundations, not only of concrete and steel, but of the service and integrity that epitomized the first Eaton store.

Eaton's — proud to be growing with Canada.
